

EDUCATE. ENGAGE. EMPOWER

People ask us all the time how they can find out what is happening – where they can find info about events, protests and other actions to take in resistance to the current regime. Several of our volunteers have put together a webpage that collects links to groups in the DFW area and North Central Texas that host/sponsor such events. Although it's a work in progress, it should start helping you right now to identify a variety of activities.
